

Misaki Hattori

Journalist on medicine and science,
the editor-in-chief of Synodos

"Fukushima Report" (<http://fukushima-report.jp/>).

After the nuclear accident at the Tokyo Electric Power Company's (TEPCO) Fukushima Daiichi Nuclear Power Plant, Hattori reports about Fukushima residents. She provides the public with information on radiation effects after the nuclear accident, including the surrounding environment, external and internal exposure of residents, health effects, and socio-psychological effects. Also, she provides scientific information on the natural history of thyroid cancer and basic knowledge about overdiagnosis. She introduces scientific researches and interviews with domestic and international researchers in various fields. At the same time, she continues to talk to and interview high school students and their parents in Fukushima Prefecture.